PRAKATA

Cerita senantiasa mewarnai setiap perjumpaan antara sesama manusia, di antara mereka yang saling mengenal ataupun yang baru bertemu untuk pertama kalinya. Cerita dapat menghidupkan perjumpaan, dapat mengakrabkan hubungan karena cerita memancarkan aspek-aspek kehidupan, yang tumbuh dari pengalaman hidup, dari yang sekadar menyodorkan hiburan sampai ke yang menampilkan nilai-nilai yang dijunjung tinggi oleh masyarakat

Buku ini memaparkan sepuluh cerita rakyat dari Sulawesi Tengah. Tidak lagi dalam lantunan suara penyampaian isi cerita dalam lekuk-liku alur intonasi si pembawa cerita, seperti aslinya dalam tradisi lisan. Akan tetapi, kendati dalam wujud cetak tanpa melodi ini, cerita rakyat tetap dapat dikenyam dalam nuansa aslinya. Buku ini tidak sekadar menyajikan isi cerita tetapi juga menampilkan diri dalam wujud kemasan yang masih dalam bahasa aslinya: enam bahasa daerah di Sulawesi Tengah (Balantak, Da'a, Ledo, Napu, Padoe, dan Uma). Teks dalam bahasa daerah didampingi notasi linguistik sehingga bahasa yang tak dikenal terbantu untuk diikuti alurnya, untuk diselami dan dicoba dihidupkan getaran ceritanya, dalam nuansa aslinya, sebagaimana terungkap dalam bahasa asalnya.

Bagi mereka yang tertarik untuk melakukan penelitian linguistik, teks ini sudah merupakan data yang tidak mentah lagi. Analisis linguistik tahap pertama sudah tersediakan, tinggal mengayun ke tahap berikutnya. Namun, bagi yang hanya berminat mengenyam isi ceritanya saja, tersediakan teks dalam dua bahasa: Indonesia dan Inggris.

Sudah beberapa tahun yang lalu naskah ini diserahkan kepada Masyarakat Linguistik Indonesia (MLI) oleh Summer Institute of Linguistics (SIL) untuk diusahakan penerbitannya. Kami sungguh bersyukur bahwa akhirnya buku ini dapat terbit berkat Program Pemetaan Bahasa Nusantara, yang merupakan kerja sama antara The Ford Foundation dan Puslitbang Kemasyarakatan dan Kebudayaan LIPI.

Terbitnya buku ini mudah-mudahan dapat menggugah langkah-langkah merekam kekayaan cerita rakyat dalam budaya nusantara ke media tulis. Tidak hanya untuk dinikmati isi ceritanya, tetapi juga tampilan aslinya, sehingga sekaligus bermanfaat untuk dipeluangkan menjadi bahan penelitian linguistik.

PENDAHULUAN

Kalau kita membaca cerita rakyat dari Sulawesi Tengah, kita masuk ke dalam suatu dunia istimewa penuh dengan peristiwa ajaib dan makhluk-makhluk yang hebat. Kita dapat berjalan melewati rimba, gunung dan tengah laut, malah naik sampai di langit dan turun kembali ke bumi. Kita ikut serta dalam perjuangan orang kecil yang terancam melawan kejahatan pihak yang besar dan kuat. Kita dapat menggali hikmah dan pengertian dari nenek moyang yang masih relevan masa kini.

Cerita rakyat merupakan sumber kekayaan yang beraneka ragam. Cerita rakyat dapat dikaji dengan memakai bermacam-macam pendekatan ilmiah. Dari segi sastra, cerita rakyat adalah salah satu bentuk utama sastra lisan suatu suku bangsa. Di dalamnya tercermin banyak unsur kebudayaan. Kebiasaan adat istiadat tergambar dengan jelas dan menarik. Nilai-nilai yang dijunjung tinggi suatu masyarakat terlihat di dalamnya. Itu sebabnya cocok sekali menggunakan cerita rakyat tertentu sebagai bahan pelajaran bagi siswa untuk menunjang nilai-nilai moral yang penting. Tetapi cerita rakyat tidak hanya mementaskan tokoh-tokoh yang mulia dan luhur. Segi-segi kehidupan yang kurang baik juga banyak muncul. Para pembaca mesti memakai akal yang kritis untuk menilai makna dan nilai masing-masing cerita.

Dalam jilid ini pendekatan yang paling ditekankan adalah pendekatan linguistik. Cerita rakyat merupakan suatu wacana yang agak panjang dan tersusun rapi sehingga sangat berguna sebagai sumber data struktur suatu bahasa, baik pada tingkat kalimat maupun pada tingkat wacana. Kebanyakan cerita dalam jilid ini berasal dari bahasa yang belum banyak diteliti. Kami berharap dengan menyediakan cerita-cerita ini akan dapat dimanfaatkan pakar lain untuk berbagai macam penelitian dan perbandingan.

Masing-masing cerita diberi terjemahan harfiah morfem demi morfem diikuti terjemahan bebas bahasa Indonesia dan bahasa Inggris. Untuk morfem gramatiskal terjemahan harfiah memakai singkatan istilah linguistik yang dijelaskan di daftar singkatan yang terdapat pada awal buku.

Semua cerita yang terdapat dalam jilid ini dikumpulkan oleh peneliti SIL (Summer Institute of Linguistics) dalam program kerja sama dengan Universitas Hasanuddin yang berlangsung dari tahun 1982 sampai dengan tahun 1991. Kami mengucapkan banyak terima kasih kepada Rektor dan Staf Universitas Hasanuddin yang banyak menolong selama penelitian berlangsung. Kami juga mengucapkan terima kasih kepada Gubernur dan para pejabat pemerintah Propinsi Sulawesi Tengah dan Rektor dan Staf Universitas Tadulako di Palu yang ikut mendukung kegiatan di lapangan.

Cerita rakyat di jilid ini berasal dari enam bahasa di Sulawesi Tengah, yaitu bahasa Balantak, bahasa Ledo, bahasa Da'a, bahasa Uma, bahasa Napu, dan bahasa Padoe. Penjelasan singkat tentang masing-masing bahasa diberikan sebelum cerita rakyat dari bahasa tersebut.

Kita dapat membagi kesepuluh cerita rakyat yang terdapat di jilid ini menjadi beberapa jenis sesuai dengan pelakunya dan temanya. Jenis-jenis cerita rakyat yang diuraikan di bawah banyak terdapat di antara berbagai suku-suku di Sulawesi, dan juga di daerah lain di Indonesia.

Dari segi pelaku, ada cerita rakyat di mana pelakunya binatang, dan yang pelakunya manusia. Kedua cerita rakyat bahasa Balantak merupakan cerita rakyat binatang, di mana pelaku utamanya adalah kancil yang mengakali harimau. Semua cerita rakyat yang lain memiliki pelaku manusia.

Ada tiga cerita rakyat yang mengisahkan usaha orang melarikan diri dari raksasa, yaitu dua cerita berjudul "Raksasa dan Anak Yatim Piatu", masing-masing dari bahasa Da'a dan bahasa Padoe, dan cerita bahasa Napu berjudul "Raksasa Pemakan Orang". Anak yatim piatu telah diperlakukan di rumah raksasa untuk dimakan, tetapi akhirnya berhasil melarikan diri. Dalam cerita bahasa Napu, ada pemburu yang melarikan diri dari raksasa yang bertemu dengannya di hutan rimba.

Tema lain yang didapat dalam cerita rakyat adalah orang yang turun dan naik di antara langit dan bumi. Contohnya dalam jilid ini adalah cerita Padoe berjudul "Orang yang Turun dari Langit". Cerita ini merupakan mitos yang menjelaskan asal usul raja-raja orang Padoe. Tema tentang orang yang naik ke langit juga muncul pada akhir cerita bahasa Da'a berjudul "Tesa Sabingga".

Tema lain yang sering muncul dalam cerita rakyat adalah transformasi pelaku utama yang berbadan jelek menjadi manusia yang cakap. Ini terjadi dalam cerita bahasa Da'a berjudul "Tesa Sabingga", cerita bahasa Uma berjudul "Orang yang Lahir Serupa Kambing", dan cerita bahasa Napu berjudul "Orang Terpancing di Wurangka". Biasanya pelaku yang jelek itu lahir sesudah orang tuanya yang mandul berdoa agar mereka mendapat anak biarpun jelek rupanya. Dan ternyata demikian. Kemudian anak yang jelek itu mau menikah dan akhirnya ada orang yang baik hati rela menikah dengan dia, walaupun dicemooh oleh saudaranya. Tetapi akhirnya waktu orang yang jelek berubah menjadi cakap, maka saudaranya menjadi iri hati.

Ada satu cerita lagi yang membahas masalah perkawinan yaitu cerita bahasa Ledo berjudul "Raja Kelapa". Cerita ini mungkin agak orisinil. Ada wanita yang cemburu yang berhasil mencuri rambut dan mata dari wanita yang baru kawin dengan Raja Kelapa. Dengan demikian dia bisa menyamar menjadi isteri yang sesungguhnya. Tetapi pada akhir cerita kedua mempelai dapat bersatu kembali.

Dalam cerita rakyat kita melihat nilai-nilai yang dihargai oleh masyarakat. Pelaku-pelakunya sering kali merupakan teladan yang patut ditiru. Dari berbagai cerita kita dapat belajar bahwa kepintaran lebih hebat daripada kekuatan fisik. Ini terlihat sewaktu kancil atau anak yatim piatu yang kecil dapat mengakali harimau dan raksasa yang besar tetapi bodoh.

Dalam cerita bahasa Padoe berjudul "Orang yang Turun dari Langit", kita diajar tentang bahayanya melanggar adat istiadat, misalnya melakukan hal yang pemali pada waktu panen. Oleh karena suatu pelanggaran, salah satu pelaku mengalami luka yang hanya bisa disembuhkan sesudah orang naik ke langit untuk minta petunjuk.

Nilai lain yang sering muncul dalam cerita rakyat adalah pentingnya kesetiaan dalam perkawinan. Walaupun suaminya jelek, ternyata kalau isterinya rela menerimanya dan mereka melawan godaan dari orang lain, maka mereka akan memperoleh kebahagiaan. Dan orang yang berusaha merusak perkawinan orang lain akhirnya mendapat ganjaran yang setimpal.

Kami berharap kumpulan cerita rakyat Sulawesi ini akan disambut oleh pembaca dari berbagai golongan dan profesi, baik di Indonesia maupun di luar negeri. Di sini terdapat sebagian dari kekayaan budaya Indonesia. Kami menyajikannya dalam jilid ini dengan harapan agar kekayaan itu tidak hanya dilestarikan tetapi juga diteliti, dipelihara, dan dinikmati.

INTRODUCTION

When you read the folk tales of Central Sulawesi, you will enter a magical world, full of strange events and amazing creatures. You can travel through jungles and mountains and in the middle of the sea, and even up to the heavens and back to earth. You can join in the struggle of the weak who fight against the evil threat of the strong and powerful. You can imbibe the wisdom and insight of the ancestors which is still relevant for today.

Folk tales are a source of a great variety of valuable material. They can be investigated using a variety of approaches. From a literary point of view, folk tales are an important expression of the oral literature of an ethnic group. Many elements of the culture can be found within them. Various cultural practices are described in vivid fashion. Important community values are expressed. This is one reason why it is very appropriate to use certain folk tales as study materials for school children with the aim of teaching certain important moral values. But folk tales do not only present to us laudable and glorious characters. Less pleasant aspects of life also are in evidence. Therefore readers need to critically evaluate the meaning and values found in each story.

In this volume, the approach most emphasized is the linguistic one. Folk tales represent rather long and well-formed discourses which are very useful as a source of data concerning the structure of a language, both at sentence and discourse level. Most of the stories in this volume are from languages which have not been the subject of much linguistic investigation. We hope that by making these tales available, we will be of assistance to scholars who can use them for various investigations and comparisons.

Each of the folk tales has been given interlinear morpheme glosses, together with free translations in Indonesian and English. Glosses of grammatical morphemes are done with coded abbreviations, the explanations for which can be found in a glossary at the beginning of the book.

The folk tales in this volume were gathered by researchers of the Summer Institute of Linguistics as part of a cooperative program with Hasanuddin University in Ujung Pandang, South Sulawesi, from 1982 until 1991. We want to express many thanks to the rector and staff of Hasanuddin University for their help during the period of research. We also want to thank the governor of Central Sulawesi and other government officials as well as the rector and staff of Tadulako University in Palu who gave support during the field work.

The folk tales in this volume come from six languages of Central Sulawesi, namely Balantak, Ledo, Da'a, Uma, Napu, and Padoe. A short explanation about each language is given before the folk tales from that language.

The ten folk tales in this volume can be divided into a number of types based on their themes and participants. These types are widely found among various ethnic groups in Sulawesi and other parts of Indonesia.

From the point of view of participants, some folk tales have animals as participants, and others have humans. The two Balantak tales are animal tales in which the mouse participant is the mouse deer who tricks the tiger. All the rest of the stories have human participants.

There are three tales which tell of people escaping from a giant, namely two stories entitled "The Giant and the Orphan", one from Da'a and one from Padoe, and the Napu story entitled "The Man-Eating Giant". The orphan was being kept by the giant in his house with a view to eating him, similar to "Hansel and Gretel". Eventually he was able to escape. In the Napu story, it is hunters who escape from a giant they encounter in the jungle.

Another theme found in folk stories is that of people who go back and forth between the sky and the earth. An example in this volume is the Padoe story entitled, "People Who Descended". This is a myth explaining the origin of the Padoe kings. The theme of people going up to the sky is also found at the end of the Da'a story entitled "Tesa Sabingga".

Another theme that often appears in folk tales is the transformation of a main character who has an ugly body to become a good-looking person. This happens in the Da'a story entitled "Tesa Sabingga", the Uma story entitled "The Person Who Was Born a Goat", and the Napu story entitled "The Person Caught by a Fisherman at Wurangka". This ugly character is often born after his childless parents pray that they might have a child, even if it has an ugly appearance. And that is what happens. Later on the ugly person wants to get married, and finally there is a good-hearted person willing to marry him, despite being mocked by her sisters. But in the end, when the ugly husband becomes handsome, the sisters become envious.

Another story which focusses on marriage is the Ledo story entitled "Coconut King". This story may be rather original. A jealous woman succeeds in stealing the hair and eyes from the woman who has just married Coconut King. With these she disguises herself and displaces the real wife. But by the end of the story the real wife is reunited with her husband.

In folk tales we can see the values which are upheld by the community. The main characters are often examples to be imitated. In a number of stories we learn that brains are better than brawn. This is seen when the small mouse deer or orphan manages to outwit the stupid tiger or giant.

In the Padoe story entitled "People Who Descended", we are taught the danger of infringing the customary law, such as by doing something which is taboo at harvest time. Because of such an infringement, one of the characters gets a wound which can only be healed after someone has gone up into the sky to get instructions.

Another value which often appears in the folk tales is the importance of faithfulness in marriage. Even though ones husband is ugly, if the wife is willing to accept him and they resist the temptations coming from others, then they will be happy. And those who try to wreck the marriage of others eventually receive an appropriate punishment.

We hope that this collection of Central Sulawesi folk tales will be welcomed by people of various backgrounds and professions, both in Indonesia and abroad. These stories represent a part of the cultural riches of Indonesia. We hope that through this volume, these riches may not only be preserved, but also studied, developed, and enjoyed.

DAFTAR SINGKATAN/LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS

The following is a list of all the abbreviations used in the glosses. For each abbreviation, the meaning is given, followed by an explanation for those terms the meaning of which may not be obvious. Then follows a list of the morphemes which are given that particular gloss, grouped according to language. If there is no such list, it means that that gloss combines with other glosses in portmanteau morphemes (such as person markers or pronouns). Abbreviations used for person markers or pronouns are found at the end of the listing.

Semua singkatan yang dipakai dalam terjemahan kata demi kata didaftarkan di bawah ini. Untuk setiap singkatan diberikan kepanjangannya disertai penjelasan untuk istilah yang mungkin tidak terlalu jelas maksudnya. Sesudah itu diberikan daftar morfem-morfem yang mempunyai makna tersebut, yang dikelompokkan menurut bahasa. Kalau tidak ada daftar demikian, berarti bahwa makna tersebut hanya muncul bersama dengan makna lain dalam morfem amalgam (seperti penanda persona atau pronomina). Singkatan yang dipakai untuk penanda persona atau pronomina didaftarkan paling akhir.

BAHASA BALANTAK

Bahasa Balantak adalah bahasa dari subkelompok Saluan rumpun bahasa Sulawesi Tengah. Penuturnya berjumlah 25.000 orang di Kecamatan Balantak dan Kecamatan Lamala, Kabupaten Luwuk pada bagian timur Sulawesi Tengah. Ada beberapa unsur morfologi dan sintaksis yang menarik di Bahasa Balantak. Bahasa Balantak memiliki sistem kata deiktis (demonstrativa) yang rumit. Morfologinya mirip dengan bahasa-bahasa Sulawesi yang lain, tetapi beberapa prefiks verbal muncul dalam tiga bentuk yang membedakan modus realis, irrealis dan semacam modus kausatif. Prefiks fokus pelaku mengalami proses keselarasan vokal. Ada juga beberapa infiks yang masih dipakai secara produktif.

Sistem pronomina bahasa Balantak mempunyai ciri yang menarik: pronomina nominatif merupakan kata bebas tetapi pronomina fokus tujuan merupakan sufiks. Pronomina posesif muncul baik sebagai kata bebas maupun sebagai sufiks. Kedua jenis sufiks tersebut (fokus tujuan dan posesif) hampir sama bentuknya.

Kedua cerita rakyat, "Kuda Tua Raja" dan "Anak Gajah dengan Kancil dan Kambing," ditulis Deen Saelong dari Kampung Talima A, Kecamatan Balantak, pada bulan Mei, 1986. Analisis linguistik dibuat oleh Robert Busenitz. Pada kedua cerita, si Kancil yang cerdik bekerja sama dengan binatang lain untuk mengakali dan mengalahkan si Harimau yang menakutkan.

BALANTAK

Balantak is a member of the Saluan subgroup of Central Sulawesi languages. It is spoken by approximately 25,000 people in Balantak and Lamala subdistricts, Luwuk district, in the eastern arm of Central Sulawesi. The Balantak language is one of the few languages in the area that has a complex system of deictics (demonstratives). Its morphology has similarities with other Sulawesian languages, but a three-way distinction in a number of the verbal prefixes is seen between realis, irrealis and a causative-type mode. Vowel harmony is a feature of the actor-focus verb prefix and the second-person singular goal focus and possessive pronouns. Several productive infixes are found in Balantak. The pronoun system is interesting in that the nominative forms are free-form pronouns while the goal focus forms are suffixes. The possessives may be either free forms or suffixed forms. The two sets of suffixes (goal focus and possessive) are almost identical.

The folk tales, "The Old Horse of the King" and "Baby Elephant with Mouse Deer and Goat," were written by Deen Saelong of Talima A village, Balantak subdistrict, in May, 1986. The linguistic analysis was done by Robert Busenitz. In both tales, the clever mouse deer conspires with another animal to outwit and defeat the terrible tiger.

There was an old horse of the king who was taken to the middle of the forest because he couldn't work any more. In that forest was a very bad animal that frequently ate other animals. One day Mouse Deer went and met the king's horse that had been taken to that forest. When they met, Mouse Deer said,

Ada seekor kuda tua milik raja yang dibawa ke tengah hutan karena tidak dapat bekerja lagi. Di hutan itu ada binatang jahat yang sering memakan binatang lain. Pada suatu waktu, si Kancil pergi dan menemui kuda raja yang diantar ke hutan itu. Ketika mereka bertemu, si Kancil berkata,

BAHASA DA'A

Penutur bahasa Da'a berjumlah sekitar 30.000 orang yang tinggal di Kecamatan Marawola, Kabupaten Donggala, Propinsi Sulawesi Tengah. Ada juga penutur yang tinggal di Kecamatan Biromaru, Kecamatan Banawa, Kabupaten Donggala, dan di Kecamatan Pasangkayu, Kabupaten Mamuju, Propinsi Sulawesi Selatan.

Bahasa Da'a mempunyai perbedaan antara realis dan irrealis pada afiks verba. Verba dapat dibagi ke dalam tiga kelas berdasarkan pemakai-an prefiks pa-/po-/pe-. Bahasa lain di sekitarnya mempunyai ciri-ciri pe-nyelarasan bunyi vokal. Tetapi seandainya bahasa Da'a dulu pernah mem-punyai ciri-ciri tersebut, maka sekarang sudah tidak ada lagi.

Cerita rakyat berikut ditulis oleh Timotius Lasipi dari desa Wayu, Kecamatan Marwola, Kabupaten Donggala, Propinsi Sulawesi Tengah pada bulan Juli 1985. Analisis linguistik dibuat oleh Don Barr. Cerita ini, seperti cerita rakyat lain yang disebut kabali, tidak dianggap cerita nyata, melainkan cerita yang diciptakan sebagai hiburan. Menurut penulis, tidak ada raksasa di dunia Da'a.

DA'A

The Da'a language is spoken by approximately 30,000 people living in Marawola subdistrict of Donggala district, Central Sulawesi. Others live in Biromaru, Banawa and Dolo subdistricts of Donggala district and Pasangkayu subdistrict of Mamuju district in South Sulawesi.

Da'a has a realis/irrealis distinction in its verb affixation. One set of verbal prefixes pa-/po-/pe- effectively divides the verbs into three classes. There is evidence in other languages of the area of vowel harmony. If Da'a had vowel harmony earlier, it is no longer evident.

The following narrative folk tale was written by Timotius Lasipi of Wayu village, Marwola subdistrict, Donggala district, Central Sulawesi in July of 1985. The linguistic analysis was done by Don Barr. This, like other folktales called kabali, is considered to be not a true story, but made up to entertain. There are no real giants in the Da'a world accord-ing to the author.

In times past there lived a giant and an orphan boy lived with him. When the boy had lived there a year, the giant asked, "My little pet, is your liver big yet?" The boy answered, "Not yet! It's still like a leaf of a new taro shoot." Hearing the boy's answer, the giant was quiet again. When the boy had lived with him for two years, the giant asked again,

Dahulu kala hiduplah seorang raksasa dan seorang anak yatim piatu yang tinggal bersamanya. Setelah anak itu tinggal di situ selama satu tahun, raksasa bertanya, "Manis, apakah hatimu sudah besar?" Jawab anak itu, "Belum, masih kecil, seperti daun anak keladi." Setelah mendengar jawaban anak itu, raksasa itu diam lagi. TESA SABINGGA

Cerita berikut direkam oleh Andi Lasipi, pada bulan Mei 1983 di desa Dombu, Kecamatan Marawola, Kabupaten Donggala, Sulawesi Tengah, kemudian disunting oleh Timotius Lasipi. Transkripsi dan analisis linguistik dilakukan oleh Don Barr. Cerita ini merupakan suatu cerita rakyat yang dalam bahasa Da'a disebut kabali.

Ada banyak cerita rakyat Da'a tentang seseorang yang melahirkan anak yang cacat atau seekor binatang atau burung. Dalam cerita-cerita ini, selalu putri ketujuh dari raja yang pada akhirnya setuju kawin dengan orang cacat itu, yang kemudian secara menakjubkan berubah menjadi seorang pangeran tampan.

Suatu ciri menarik yang ditemukan dalam banyak cerita terdapat juga pada akhir cerita ini, di mana ada suatu ledakan di dalam dapur, lalu rumah yang dihuni kedua tokoh utama cerita naik ke langit meninggalkan orang-orang lain. Tema ini telah ditemukan dalam beberapa pergerakan yang mengharapkan datangnya akhir zaman yang pernah terjadi di daerah Da'a. Harapan dari mereka adalah keluar dari dunia ini, kemudian naik menuju langit, di mana segalanya akan jadi indah dan tanpa ada masalah hidup di dunia.

Pada akhir tahun 1950-an dan awal tahun 1960-an terdapat suatu pergerakan akhir zaman yang demikian di daerah Bawuaya sebelah selatan desa Gimpubia yang menarik pengikut dari beberapa desa. Semuanya berharap dapat naik ke langit seperti yang terjadi dalam cerita ini. Menurut anggapan, hanya orang-orang baik saja yang dapat naik ke langit, sehingga di akhir cerita ini dikisahkan orang-orang yang ditinggalkan menangis karena mereka telah berkata bahwa Sabingga adalah jahat, sedangkan justru dia adalah yang naik ke langit.

TESA SABINGGA

This following story is an oral text recorded by Andi Lasipi, May, 1983, in Dombu village, Marawola suddistrict, Donggala district, Central Sulawesi. It was edited by Timotius Lasipi. Transcription and linguistic analysis were done by Don Barr. It is a narrative folk tale, called kabali in Da'a.

The theme of someone giving birth to a deformed child or an animal or bird is a common one in Da'a folk tales, with many variations found. In such stories, it is always the seventh daughter of the king who finally agrees to marry the deformed person, who always then miraculously changes into a handsome prince.

A further interesting feature found in many such tales is the ending of this tale in which there is an explosion in the kitchen, after which the house with the hero and heroine in it rises up into the sky leaving behind the rest of the people. This theme has found adherents in modern days in several millenial movements which have occurred in the Da'a area. The hope in all of them is to rise up out of this world into the sky where all will be wonderful and with none of the problems of living in the world.

As recently as the late 1950's and early 1960's there was such a millenial movement in the Bawuaya area south of the village of Gimpubia which gathered adherents from many villages, all hoping to rise up into the sky. It is felt that only good people can experience this rising up to the sky, hence the ending of this text in which those left behind weep and cry because they had said that Sabingga was evil, whereas he was the one who rose up into the sky.

His sisters-in-law said, "Hey, who could it be that just arrived there at the house? He looks like a king to me." His wife arrived, and as soon as she saw him, she knew it was only her husband. The six of them asked him, "Hey, where is the king whom you asked to change you?" "It was the king over there."

The way to Coconut King's parents' village was by sea, so they went by boat. By the time they got underway, the sun was already high. Kapapitu was thirsty. Coconut King's wife told him to climb a coconut tree on the seashore. So he dropped anchor and went to climb a coconut tree. After he went to climb the coconut tree, Yoro got into the boat. She said to Kapapitu, "Come here, let me look and see what might be in your eye."

Untuk pergi ke kampung Raja Kelapa harus lewat laut, jadi mereka pun naik perahu. Sewaktu mulai perjalanan, matahari sudah tinggi, si Kapapitu merasa haus. Isteri Raja Kelapa menyuruhnya untuk memanjat pohon kelapa di tepi laut. Dia pun membuang sauh, kemudian dia pergi memanjat pohon kelapa. Ketika dia pergi memanjat kelapa, si Yoro datang naik ke dalam perahu. Katanya kepada Kapapitu, "Mari ke sini, begini, saya akan lihat mungkin ada sesuatu di dalam matamu."

until Coconut King's child was big. Coconut King lived in a different place. When she arrived at that village, Yoro also gave birth. After awhile each child grew to be the same size. They became friends. Yoro's son became friends with Kapapitu's son. If Kapapitu's son went visiting at Yoro's house, he was always muddy. Whenever he went visiting he would smear mud on himself. After awhile the two of them invited each other to do something.

sampai anak Raja Kelapa besar. Raja Kelapa tinggal di tempat lain. Waktu dia tiba di sana, Yoro juga melahirkan. Akhirnya masing-masing anak itu menjadi sama besarnya. Mereka berteman. Anak Yoro berteman dengan anak Kapapitu. Setiap kali anak Kapapitu pergi jalan-jalan ke rumah Yoro, dia selalu berlumpur. Kalau dia pergi jalan-jalan, dia selalu melumuri badannya dengan lumpur. Suatu ketika mereka berdua saling mengundang.

When he came to where his mother was, he tried to put in her eyes, but they couldn't be put in because it had been a long time. But he filed them down. After filing them, he tried to put them in again. Eventually they fit fine. But she still couldn't see very clearly. He filed the eyes again until things were clear and distinct. After his mother's vision was good and clear, he reattached her hair. He attached it but it didn't fit. He filed it again until it was back to normal. Her eyes returned to normal; her hair too returned to normal.

Sesudah mata ibunya baik dan jelas, dipasang kembali rambutnya. Tetapi tidak cocok. Ia mengikir lagi sampai menjadi seperti semula. After his mother was back to normal, the boy returned again to Yoro's house. He didn't wear a sarong or a shirt. He went visiting one morning about seven o'clock. He found his father, Coconut King, working planing wood. But he didn't go in; he just stood at the gate of his father's house. Suddenly Coconut King looked around and the gold forehead and the diamond chest shone at each other. So he left his work of planing wood.

Sesudah ibunya kembali sempurna, anaknya kembali lagi ke rumah Yoro. Dia tidak pakai sarung atau baju. Ia pergi jalanan pada waktu pagi, kira-kira jam tujuh. Dia mendapatkan ayahnya, Raja Kelapa, sedang mengetam kayu. Tetapi ia tidak masuk, dia hanya berdiri di pintu pagar di rumah bapaknya. Tiba-tiba Raja Kelapa menoleh, dan dahi emas serta dada intan mereka saling bersinar. Lalu ia melepaskan pekerjaannya.

So Coconut King remarried Kapapitu. From the time he chased the boy until he married Kapapitu again, he no longer saw Yoro.

BAHASA NAPU

Kelompok penutur bahasa Napu terdiri dari sekitar 5.000 orang, sebagian besar berdiam di Kecamatan Lore Utara, Kabupaten Poso, Propinsi Sulawesi Tengah. Bahasa Napu termasuk rumpun Austronesia dan merupakan salah satu bahasa Kaili-Pamona yang digunakan di bagian barat dan tengah Propinsi Sulawesi Tengah. Napu juga disebut Pekurehua.

Bahasa Napu sangat dekat dengan bahasa Besoa dan bahasa Bada yang dipakai di lembah yang berada di sebelah selatan. Sebenarnya dari segi linguistik, ketiga bahasa ini bisa dianggap sebagai tiga dialek dari satu bahasa. Ada banyak persamaan juga di antara bahasa Uma dengan bahasa Napu, misalnya kata ganti pada kata kerja yang memakai sistem ergatif dan adanya kelompok kata ganti yang disebut komiseratif.

NAPU

The Napu language group consists of about 5,000 people most of whom live in the North Lore Subdistrict, Poso District, Central Sulawesi, Indonesia. The Napu language is an Austronesian language and is one of the Kaili-Pamona languages which are spoken in the western and central parts of Central Sulawesi. Napu is also known as Pekurehua.

Napu is very closely related to the Besoa and Bada languages spoken in adjacent valleys to the south. In fact, linguistically they might be considered three dialects of the same language. Uma also shares many features in common with Napu such as the ergative system of person markers on the verb and the use of a commiserative set of pronouns.

TORAPEKA I WURANGKA
ORANG TERPANCING DI WURANGKA
The Person Caught by a Fisherman at Wurangka

Cerita ini ditulis oleh Charles Kareba pada bulan Desember 1989 di Kampung Wuasa. Analisis linguistik dilakukan oleh Roger Hanna. Cerita ini mengenai seorang anak bangsawan yang memancing seekor kambing yang dibawa pulang. Dia menyingkapkan bahwa kambing itu dapat berubah menjadi wanita cantik, dan kemudian mereka kawin. Keturunannya, yang masih tinggal di daerah Napu, berkuku bulat seperti kuku kambing.

This story about a goat who was caught by a fisherman was written down by Charles Kareba in December 1989 in the village of Wuasa. The linguistic analysis was done by Roger Hanna. It is about a prince who goes fishing and catches a goat which he takes home. He discovers that the goat has been changing itself into a beautiful woman and they get married. Their descendants, who still live in Napu today, have rounded fingernails like that of a goat.

It happened one day that a prince went fishing at that pond. This prince was still a strong young bachelor and the only son of the ruler of the village of Lamba at that time. This prince was of good character because he was always very respectful of his parents. One day the prince went fishing from morning until afternoon but unfortunately no catfish ever struck at his bait.

Pada suatu waktu, pergilah seorang putra bangsawan memancing di tebat itu. Putra bangsawan ini masih bujang dan kuat dan ia adalah anak tunggal dari penguasa di kampung Lamba pada saat itu. Sifat putra bangsawan ini sangat baik sebab ia sangat menghormati orang tuanya. Putra bangsawan ini memancing dari waktu pagi hingga sore hari, akan tetapi sayang, tidak ada ikan gabus yang memakan umpan pancingannya.

dan melihat seorang gadis seperti apa yang disampaikan budaknya. Ia pun mendekati gadis itu, dan menurut perkiraannya, dialah yang sering menghabiskan isi kantong sirihnya, karena gadis ini sedang mabuk atau pingsan oleh tembakau yang dicelupkan dalam arak. Sesudah itu, ia pergi membuka tirai tempat tidurnya, dan melihat kulit kambing yang berbintik terletak di tempat tidurnya.

So then he understood that it was his goat who had turned into this beautiful girl who was now drunk from the effects of the tobacco. When he saw that her hair hung down through a hole in the floor, he went down below the house and tied the girl's hair so that she would not be able to leave or to become a goat again. Maka jelaslah baginya bahwa kambing itulah yang menjadi gadis cantik yang sedang mabuk akibat tembakau. Setelah ia melihat rambutnya yang terurai di lubang, maka ia turun ke kolong rumah dan mengikat rambut gadis itu, agar ia tidak dapat keluar atau menjadi kambing kembali. BAHASA PADOE

Bahasa Padoe dipakai oleh sekitar 8.000 penutur di Sulawesi Selatan dan Sulawesi Tengah. Daerah asli suku Padoe terletak di Kecamatan Nuha dan Kecamatan Malili, Kabupaten Luwu, Sulawesi Selatan, tetapi sejak tahun 50-an penutur bahasa Padoe juga terdapat di Kecamatan Mangkutana, Kabupaten Luwu, dan di Kecamatan Mori Atas dan Kecamatan Pamona Utara, Kabupaten Poso, Sulawesi Tengah.

Bahasa Padoe sering disebut bahasa Mori Selatan dan mempunyai kemiripan dengan bahasa Mori Bawah dan bahasa Mori Atas. Bahasa Padoe mempunyai sistem pronomina yang sangat rumit dengan adanya delapan jenis penanda persona. Jenis penanda persona yang dipakai berinteraksi dengan sistem morfologi verba untuk menentukan apakah modus verba tidak tertanda, irrealis atau realis. Pemilihan penanda persona juga menandai unsur klausa tertentu sebagai unsur yang ditekankan.

PADOE

The Padoe language is spoken by approximately 8,000 people in South and Central Sulawesi. The original Padoe homeland lies in Nuha and Malili subdistricts of Luwu district in South Sulawesi, but since the 1950's there have been Padoe-speaking communities also in Mangkutana subdistrict of Luwu district as well as Mori Atas and Pamona Utara subdistricts of Poso district in Central Sulawesi.

Padoe, often referred to as South Mori, is quite similar to the Lower Mori and Upper Mori languages and their respective dialects. It has a very complicated pronominal marking system with eight sets of person-markers, the choice of which (together with appropriate verb morphology) marks the predicate of a clause for unmarked, irrealis, or realis mood as well as marking certain constituents for emphasis.

KALAMBORO KAA ELU-ELU
RAKSASA DAN ANAK YATIM PIATU
The Giant and the Orphan

Ada banyak cerita mengenai raksasa pemakan manusia dan anak yatim piatu. Raksasa dianggap bodoh dan anak yatim piatu dapat mengakalinya, walaupun jauh lebih kecil. Cerita rakyat ini dikisahkan oleh Latupu Sinampu dan direkam pada tanggal 2 Juni, 1989 di Taliwan, Kecamatan Mori Atas, Sulawesi Tengah. Analisis linguistik dilakukan oleh Paula Vuorinen.

This is one of many common stories with man-eating giants and, consequently, orphans. Giants are stupid, and the orphans outwit them though much smaller in size. This folk tale was told by Latupu Sinampu and recorded on cassette on June 2, 1989 in Taliwan, Kecamatan Mori Atas, Central Sulawesi. The linguistic analysis was done by Paula Vuorinen.

Once upon a time there was a huge giant whose teeth were like hoes. This giant ate people. Thus a lot of people became orphans, because their fathers were eaten by the giant; that's why they had become orphans. For a long time an orphan slept in the attic together with a father giant whose name was Langgai.

Pada dahulu kala ada satu raksasa besar sekali, giginya seperti cangkul. Raksasa itu suka memakan orang, sehingga banyak orang yang menjadi yatim piatu karena ayahnya dimakan raksasa. Itulah sebabnya mereka menjadi yatim piatu. Sudah lama ada seorang anak yatim piatu tidur di loteng bersama seorang raksasa yang bernama Langgai.

in order to be able call Langgai to come down to eat. The song of the mother giant went like this: "Langgai, Langgai, wake up to eat, we'll go to the garden." The orphan answered: "Not yet, please. I'm weary because I worked hard pushing the orphan down." After that, the mother and father giant ate. But it was their own child they ate. After that, they left for the garden.

When they got to the garden, the giant sang again like this: "Langgai, Langgai, perhaps it was our own child; his blood tasted very bitter." When they got bored, they returned home again. When they got home, the orphan had already fled. Since he had fled, they chased him. The orphan took a lice comb with him. When they were about to catch the orphan, he stuck the lice comb in the ground, and it became a fence. The giants had to stop there.

Setelah mereka tiba di kebun, raksasa itu menyanyi lagi begini: "Langgai, Langgai, mungkin anak kita lah yang kita makan, sebab pahit sekali darahnya." Setelah mereka bosan, mereka pulang lagi ke rumah. Ketika mereka tiba di rumah, ternyata anak yatim piatu itu sudah lari. Karena anak itu lari, maka mereka mengejarnya. Si yatim piatu sempat mengambil sisir kutu. Ketika mereka hampir menangkap si yatim piatu, dia menancapkan sisir kutu itu di tanah, dan sisir itu menjadi pagar. Terpaksa raksasa itu tinggal di situ.

The high priest was the one who worshipped the Lord Lahumoa from the sky. Thus the high priest came to be, as did also the shaman and the priest of rice farming. The priest of rice farming performed the Melahumoa ritual for the Lord Alemba and the Lord Sumangambae when people planted rice. The shaman was the one to worship the earth spirits. The high priest worshipped Lord Lahumoa. Thus Sumba'oleo, the eldest child, was installed as king of Matano.

Imam agung adalah orang yang menyembah Tuhan Lahumoa yang berasal dari langit. Dengan demikian imam agung dijadikan, dukun dijadikan juga, dan dukun padi juga. Dukun padi melakukan upacara Melahumoa untuk Tuhan Alemba dan Tuhan Sumangambae pada saat orang mulai menanam padi. Dukun yang menyembah roh tanah. Imam agung menyembah Tuhan Lahumoa. Jadi Sumba'oleo, yang adalah anak sulung, dilantik menjadi raja di Matano.

The place called Matano ['spring'] was called such because there was a spring of water on the shore of the lake, Lake Matano. After that they built the first house beside the spring; it was seven meters from the spring. The house was called Rahampu'u ['first house'], because that was the first time they built a house there. Thus Matano became a village, the village where the king lived. That village still exists until this day. As for Wembaine's job, she was a farmer.

Tempat itu disebut Matano ['mata air'] karena ada mata air di pinggir danau, yaitu Danau Matano. Kemudian mereka membangun rumah pertama di samping mata air itu. Rumah itu terletak tujuh meter dari mata air, dan dinamakan Rahampu'u ['rumah pertama'], karena itulah pertama kali mereka membangun rumah di sana. Kemudian Matano menjadi sebuah kampung; kampung di mana raja tinggal. Kampung itu masih ada sampai sekarang. Kalau Wembaine, pekerjaannya sebagai petani.

As for Buranga Besi, he was an ironworker who made machetes, axes, spears, and sickles. Siisi was the one who took care of fighting if there were people who wanted to make war. Once Wembaine went up to work in her garden in Wawo'une. After planting rice, she wanted to cut it as it was already ripe. She went first to close the road in Otuno and build a fence there, before any people passed that way.

Kalau Buranga Besi, dia adalah tukang besi yang membuat parang, kapak, tombak, dan sabit. Kalau Siisi, pekerjaannya adalah mengurus pertempuran kalau ada orang yang ingin berperang. Pada suatu hari Wembaine naik berkebun di Wawo'une. Sesudah Selesai menanam padi, dia ingin memotongnya, karena sudah menguning. Dia pergi dulu menutup jalan di Otuno dan dipagarinya, sebelum ada orang lewat.

Together with the fence she stuck a lolu flower in the ground and then four stalks of tumbapasa plants, and then she buried a rice-cutter. An oath was sworn with regard to the rice-cutter. The oath was: "Whoever passes here during the time the rice-cutter is buried in the ground will break his neck. The only time when the gate may be passed and the oath about the rice-cutter may be broken is when the enemy has got your older brother or sister." So if they had already cut the rice, they said:

One time when Ndalowulu was going up to the sky, someone who was under the boat ladder saw her private parts and laughed. After he saw Ndalowulu, they all laughed; so she broke the boat ladder because she was angry. The boat ladder fell to the ground. Since then there has been no more traffic between the earth and the sky. Thus Wembaine went on working as a farmer.

Suatu waktu ketika Ndalowulu naik ke langit, orang yang tinggal di bawah tangga perahu melihat kemaluannya dan tertawa. Setelah dia melihat Ndalowulu, orang-orang tertawa; sehingga Ndalowulu menjadi marah dan memutuskan tangga perahu jatuh ke tanah. Sejak itu tidak ada lagi yang pulang pergi dari bumi naik ke langit. Jadi Wembaine berkebun terus.

BAHASA UMA

Bahasa Uma merupakan salah satu anggota dari kelompok bahasa Kaili-Pamona di Sulawesi Tengah. Kadang-kadang disebut bahasa Pipikoro. Bahasa Uma digunakan di daerah pegunungan sebelah selatan Kecamatan Kulawi, Kabupaten Donggala, tetapi sekarang banyak orang Uma tinggal di daerah lain, seperti kota Palu dan lembah Palolo. Terdapat kira-kira 15.000 penutur bahasa Uma.

Walaupun bahasa Uma berhubungan erat dengan bahasa Da'a namun perbedaan antara verba realis dan irealis yang begitu mencolok dalam bahasa Da'a hampir tidak pernah muncul dalam bahasa Uma. Agaknya bahasa Uma lebih mirip dengan beberapa bahasa di Sulawesi Selatan dalam hal sistem ergatif terbatas yang ditemukan pada penanda persona pada kata kerja. Klitika banyak terdapat dalam bahasa Uma dan naskah ini secara jelas menunjukkannya dengan memakai tanda ~ dari-pada menuliskannya sebagai imbuhan terikat atau sebagai kata bebas.

UMA

Uma is a member of the Kaili-Pamona language group of Central Sulawesi. It is sometimes called Pipikoro. Uma is spoken in the mountainous region of the south part of Kulawi subdistrict, Donggala district, but many Umas now live in other areas, such as the city of Palu, and the Palolo valley. There are about 15,000 speakers of Uma.

Although Uma is closely related to Da'a, the realis/irealis distinction so prominent in Da'a is all but lost in Uma. Rather Uma is similar to several South Sulawesi languages in that a limited ergative system is found in the person markers of the verb. Clitics abound in Uma and these texts show them clearly by marking them with a tilda (~) rather than writing them as bound affixes or free forms.

ORANG YANG LAHIR SERUPA KAMBING
The Person Who Was Born a Goat

Cerita rakyat ini ditulis oleh Herman Rigo di Kantewu pada bulan Juni tahun 1982. Analisis linguistik dilakukan oleh Michael Martens. Cerita ini memakai banyak klitika gramatikal dan mempunyai beberapa unsur yang sering ditemukan dalam cerita rakyat Uma: orang cacat yang menjadi normal kembali, anak bungsu yang diperlakukan tidak baik oleh kakaknya, ayam sakti yang berkokok sampai tuannya hidup kembali.

The following folk tale was written by Herman Rigo in Kantewu, in June of 1982. The linguistic analysis was done by Michael Martens. It is rich in enclitics and contains several motifs common to Uma folk tales: a person with a deformity who becomes beautiful; a youngest child mistreated by her older siblings; a magic chicken that crows its owner back to life.

she accepted the goat's betrothal gift. When her sisters heard that she had actually accepted the goat's betrothal gift, they said, "Are you kidding? What in the world do you see in a goat? What can he do? Gather wood? Farm? Or maybe seek his fortune? You can't live with us here any longer!" The youngest daughter did not reply to her sisters' words. As for their parents, they didn't say a thing. When the wedding night came, sure enough, the goat came to wed his bride.

maka pinangannya diterima olehnya. Ketika keenam kakaknya mendengar bahwa adik mereka menerima pinangan si Kambing, maka berkatalah mereka, "Masa'! Mengapa engkau suka pada si Kambing itu? Apakah yang dapat dia kerjakan? Mencari kayu api? Bertani? Atau berdagang? Jangan lagi tinggal di sini bersama kami." Tetapi si bungsu tidak menyahut perkataan kakaknya itu, dan orang tua mereka pun diam saja. Tibalah malam perkawinan, dan memang si Kambing datang untuk kawin.

But the older sisters kept saying to their father, "Father, don't allow them to stay here. Make them go stay in the garden hut, so that goat can pull up grass and eat it." Seven nights after they were wed, the goat said to his wife, "Lass, let's go bathe in the stream." So they went. When they got there, the goat said, "Lass, you stay here for now. I'll go bathe first."

Tetapi keenam kakaknya itu tetap berkata kepada ayah mereka, "Ayah, jangan izinkan mereka tinggal di sini. Usirlah mereka ke pondok supaya kambing itu dapat mencabut rumput untuk makanannya." Tujuh malam setelah mereka kawin, berkatalah si Kambing kepadaistrinya, "Dik, mari kita pergi mandi ke sungai." Maka berangkatlah mereka ke sungai. Setelah tiba di sana, si Kambing berkata, "Tunggu di sini dulu, Dik. Saya akan mandi dulu."

They didn't say anything. They cooked some rice for them and boiled them some eggs, but the visitors did not want to eat. The man just kept saying, "Goats don't eat rice and eggs. Grass on the edge of the rice paddy is their food." This really shamed the six sisters-in-law.

The second time they pushed hard, and the swing went snap and broke. The little sister fell a long way, there was a thud, and she died on the spot. They left her and went home. When they got home their parents said, "Where is your sister?" They answered, "She came back a long time ago." They waited till evening, but she still didn't turn up. They searched but could not find her. They said, "Maybe she was eaten by a python." Kedua kalinya, didorong kuat sekali, dan putuslah tali rotan itu dengan bunyi yang keras, dan si adik itu jatuh ke bawah, berdebuks dan langsung meninggal. Mereka pun meninggalkannya dan pulang ke rumah. Setelah tiba di rumah, bertanyalah orang tua mereka, "Di manakah adikmu?" Jawab mereka, "Sudah lama tadi dia pulang." Ditunggu sampai sore, dia tetap tidak datang. Dicari, tetapi tidak ditemukan. Ada yang berkata, "Mungkin dia ditelan ular sawah."

But the six sisters kept getting closer and closer to their brother-in-law, but he did not want to marry them. One, two, three nights went by, and the egg hatched. The corpse of the chicken's mistress was full of worms, so it pecked and pecked at the worms, saying, "Live, live, my mistress! Let's go home quickly!" It pecked and pecked some more and said, "Live, live, my mistress! Your husband is waiting for you!" After pecking to remove worms

Lalu keenam kakak itu terus menerus mendekati ipar mereka, tetapi dia tidak mau memperistrikan mereka. Semalam, dua malam, tiga malam sesudah kematian si adik, menetaslah telur ayam tadi. Mayatnya sudah penuh dengan ulat, tetapi ayam itu mematuk-matuk ulat itu sambil berkata, "Hidup, hiduplah, tuanku! Mari kita cepat pulang ke rumah!" Dia mematuk lagi ulat dan berkata, "Hidup, hiduplah, tuanku! Engkau ditunggu suamimu!" Setelah ayam itu mematuk ulat and speaking to her seven times, the chicken's mistress began to breathe and sat up. Then the chicken spoke again, "Since my mistress has come to life, I request that she have clothes." In the twinkling of an eye she was clothed: a striped skirt, a decorated blouse, a neckband, earrings and a bracelet. After that they went home. When she got home, she found her husband, parents, and six sisters.

dan mengucapkan kata-kata itu kepadanya tujuh kali, tuannya pun mulai bernafas kembali dan bangun. Si ayam berkata lagi, "Sekarang, karena tuanku sudah hidup, saya meminta pakaian baru untuknya!" Sekejap mata dia sudah berpakaian dengan rok bergaris, baju yang bagus sekali, kalung, anting-anting dan gelang. Setelah itu, berangkatlah mereka kembali ke rumah. Di sana dia mendapati suaminya, orang tuanya, dan keenam kakaknya.

How her parents and husband wept; but the six sisters said not a word, for they were afraid. She told about how they had invited her to go swinging, and how she had taken along an egg in her skirtband. After that she was reunited with her husband. As for her six sisters, they got thinner and thinner, with the result that they died one by one until they were all gone.

Suaminya dan orang tuanya menangis, tetapi keenam kakaknya itu diam saja karena takut. Maka si adik menceritakan bagaimana kakaknya mengajak dia pergi bermain ayunan, dan bahwa dia membawa telur ayam di pinggang roknya. Maka si adik dan suaminya disatukan kembali. Tetapi keenam kakaknya makin lama makin kurus, sehingga mati satu demi satu, sampai semuanya tiada lagi.
